3. LEGISLATION

This Privacy Policy is regulated by Peruvian law and in particular by:

- Political Constitution of Peru
- Law No. 29733 - Personal Data Protection Law.
- Supreme Decree N° 003-2013-JUS, which approves the Regulation of Law N° 29733.
- Legislative Decree N° 1353, Legislative Decree that creates the National Authority of Transparency and Access to Public Information, strengthens the personal data protection regime and the regulation of interest management.
- Information Security Directive, approved by Directorial Resolution N° 019-2013-JUS/DGPDP.

AMOTAPE develops its Privacy Policy by which it establishes the guidelines for the treatment of personal data in accordance with the guiding principles set forth in Law No. 29733 - Personal Data Protection Law as follows:

Principle of Legality

Refuses the collection of our Users' personal data by fraudulent, unfair or unlawful means.

Principle of Consent

In the processing of our Users' personal data, their free, prior, express, informed and unequivocal consent is required.

Principle of Legality

The personal data of our Users will be collected for the determined, explicit and lawful purpose detailed in this Privacy Policy and will not be extended to any purpose other than the one unequivocally established as such at the time of collection.

Proportionality Principle

The personal data to be processed shall be truthful, accurate, updated as far as possible, necessary, relevant and adequate with respect to the purpose for which they were collected. They shall be kept in a form that ensures their security and only for the time required to fulfill the purpose of the processing.

Security Principle

AMOTAPE and, where appropriate, the data processors, adopt the necessary technical, organizational and legal measures to ensure the security and confidentiality of personal data.

Principle of Availability of Resources

AMOTAPE informs its Users that they may exercise their right to the protection of personal data contained in article 2, paragraph 6) of the 1993 Constitution, before the National Data Protection Authority and in a jurisdictional venue before the Judicial Power for the purpose of initiating the corresponding habeas data process.

4. DATA COLLECTION AND SECURITY

Users are informed that the personal data they enter in the forms found in the websites and its different digital platforms, will be managed by AMOTAPE in order to administer the comments made in them and to be able to contact said Users, and will be subject to the purposes set forth in this Privacy Policy.

The personal data provided by Users may be lawfully and fairly processed by AMOTAPE staff and its business partners who need to know such information in order to fulfill the purposes specified in this Privacy Policy. AMOTAPE undertakes to protect the confidentiality of the personal data provided by Users.

5. TRANSFER OF DATA TO THIRD PARTIES

We inform Users that by providing their consent they authorize AMOTAPE to share the personal data collected through the websites and apps of its administration and property. With the User's consent, this personal data may be shared with a third party, who will be contractually obliged to make appropriate use of the data provided by Users to comply with the purposes set forth in the Privacy Policy and current legal regulations.

Users' personal data may also be communicated to administrative entities, judicial and/or police authorities, as long as it is established by law in cases where this information is required in order to comply with a legal requirement, collaborate with the administration of justice and protect the interests of the Users.

6. SECURITY OF PERSONAL DATA

AMOTAPE has implemented all technical and organizational measures necessary to ensure the security of personal data and prevent its alteration, loss and unauthorized processing and/or access, taking into account the state of technology, nature of the data stored and risks to which they are exposed, whether from human action, the physical or natural environment, as established by current Peruvian legislation on personal data protection.

The company has also implemented additional security measures to reinforce the confidentiality and integrity of the information and continuously maintains the supervision, control and evaluation of the processes to ensure the privacy of personal data. However, the transmission of information through communication networks and the Internet is not completely secure; therefore, and although AMOTAPE will make its best efforts to protect personal data, it cannot guarantee the security of such data during transit to the websites.

In such sense, all information provided by Users will be sent at their own risk. Therefore, AMOTAPE recommends the utmost diligence to its Users when transferring to third parties or publishing personal information to avoid putting their personal data at risk, AMOTAPE avoiding any liability in case of illicit subtractions, modifications or loss of data.

7. EXERCISE OF RIGHTS BY THE HOLDER OF PERSONAL DATA

Users who have provided their personal data to AMOTAPE may contact AMOTAPE in order to exercise their rights of information, access, updating, inclusion, rectification, suppression, cancellation and opposition to the processing or objective processing of the data, under the terms set forth in the Peruvian legislation in force.

In order to exercise these rights, Users may send their request to the following e-mail address "amotapebosqueseco@gmail.com" with the reference "Personal Data Protection", specifying their data, proving their identity and the reasons for their request.

8. USER CONSENT

By accepting this Privacy Policy, Users agree with all the aspects set forth in this document and authorize us to process their personal data for the purposes set forth above and in accordance with the legal regulations in force.

9. VALIDITY AND MODIFICATION OF THIS PRIVACY POLICY

AMOTAPE's Privacy Policy has been updated on July 2021.

AMOTAPE reserves the right to modify and/or update its Privacy Policy in the case that there is a change in current legislation, doctrinal, jurisprudential or business criteria that involve an improvement in the service provided.

If any changes are made to this Policy, the new text will be published on this website, so it is recommended that Users review it periodically.

In this sense, when you use any of AMOTAPE's websites, where you become aware of the modified and/or updated Privacy Policy, you will be consenting that the personal data obtained from you or about you after the modification and/or update, will be subject to it.
